

WiSE Presents: Coding Camp for Girls

Calling all girls! Come join us at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory for an introduction to coding!

Saturday, April 28 – Sunday, April 29, 2018

Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory: Wendt Conference Room

1 Bungtown Road Cold Spring Harbor, NY

Camp Hours: 12 pm- 3 pm

This 2-session Introduction to Coding Camp is designed for high school female science enthusiasts, grades 8-12, who are interested in computer programming. This camp is for beginners, so no prior experience required!

Learn the fundamentals of coding!

Create your own website!

Be inspired!

Space is limited, so reserve your spot today!

Contact: Cassidy Danyko      cdanyko@cshl.edu

Suggested Donation: $15

*If you have a laptop, you can bring it. If not, let us know and we will provide one.

About Us:

CSHL WiSE (Women in Science and Engineering) is a network of scientists working to build a more supportive, collaborative, and equal scientific community for all. We provide a platform for professional development and empowerment through mentorship, career planning, and educational opportunities tailored toward issues disproportionately affecting women.